Sun, 27 Jan 2019 08:19:00 GMT Transport Processes And Separation Process Principles ... - The process shown on the following page shows a process for recovering acetone from air. In the first step, the acetone is absorbed with water. Although water is far from being the most ideal solvent because of the high volatility of acetone in water, the air will not be contaminated with an organic solvent. The acetone-water mixture is then easily separated by distillation, with recycle of ...
